Code/1042

Code/1043

The image displays a dark, textured surface with a vertical wood-grain pattern. The primary color is a deep, dark brown or black, with numerous vertical, light-colored (tan or beige) streaks of varying widths and lengths. These streaks are irregular and appear to be natural wood grain or a similar material texture. The overall effect is a rich, organic pattern.

Code/1044

The image shows a close-up of a wood grain texture. The wood has a vertical grain pattern with varying shades of brown, from light tan to dark chocolate brown. The texture is smooth and natural, with some subtle variations in color and grain direction. The wood is set against a dark green background.

Code/1046

Code/1047

The image displays a detailed wood grain pattern, likely from a species like birch or maple, characterized by its wavy, concentric growth rings. The color palette is a range of light to medium browns, with darker lines delineating the growth rings. The texture is smooth and consistent across the surface.

Code/1048

The image shows a close-up of a wood grain texture, likely a laminate or veneer. The grain is vertical and has a wavy, rippled appearance. The color is a warm, light brown or tan. The texture is consistent across the entire surface.

Code/1049

The image shows a close-up of a wood grain texture, likely a laminate or veneer. The wood has a warm, medium-brown tone with a complex, wavy pattern of growth rings and knots. The texture is highly detailed, showing the natural grain of the wood. The background is a solid, muted green color.
